

Sponsored Mont Blanc Climb

On the 22nd of June 2013 I will attempt to climb to the summit of Western Europe's highest mountain. Standing at 4,810m (15,782ft) above sea level, Mont Blanc is the highest peak in the Alps, and will take 6 days of ice axe and crampon training, acclimatization and climbing to complete.

All money raised will be donated to both The Fire Fighters Charity and The Northumberland Mountain Rescue Team.

(Your sponsorship money will not be used for any costs incurred with the challenge!!)

If you would like to sponsor me for this great challenge, contact me by e-mail on – jack.mcwilliams@northumberland.gov.uk or mobile – 07780702959.

or you could give directly here: www.justgiving.com/Jack-McWilliams

All proceeds go towards two fantastic causes!!

Kind regards, FF Jack McWilliams – Wooler Retained and Berwick Blue Watch.
