

Hethpool Show Great Hetha Run

4 August 2013 at 17:13

In only its second year from its re-birth, Hethpool Show saw a 25% increase in competitors, and with the sun shining and blue sky's, conditions were good with a nice breeze on the tops of the hills.

Great to see some familiar faces and some big guns in the local Fell running scene. With big gun names, the likes of Adam Fletcher, Bruce Crombie, John Tollitt, Andy Russel, Tim McCall, Pauline Aitchison and Keith.

When I say myself and Kenny had organised this event, well organised maybe isn't the right word, as we didn't have race numbers until Pauline had kindly brought some along at the last minute donated by Glen McWilliams which had been left over from the previous day at Powburn. Andy Russell had some safety pins in his car which he had found, and I had to borrow John's Partner Vicki to help me with finish line duties.

But that didn't deter some flat out running and great efforts during the "event" (Not really supposed to call it a race for insurance purposes).

As was forecast first and second was Bruce then Adam, followed by Tim, John, Andy, Keith and first Lady Pauline.

Thanks to all who came along, please put this date in your diaries for next year, as it's a great course which takes in some fine North Northumberland National Park vistas.
